

Keep Your Career On The Right Path

Seeking out a career change or professional advancement opportunity is a major decision that can affect every dimension of your life. For those seeking a new area of employment, Pathway Health will work closely with you to find the right match that reflects your career passion and values. We are committed to finding the right opportunity for you, and are ready to assist you in attaining your career goals.

At Pathway Health, we offer opportunities to build relationships in an exciting career, both with leading post-acute organizations and at Pathway Health. Our process enhances your professional job search, application and response process.

Pathway Health Talent Network

We have extensive knowledge, experience and a nationwide network of contacts in the post-acute industry, which enables us to offer high-caliber positions for executive, senior and middle-management roles. You are never under any obligation to accept a position and all conversations remain confidential.

- Become a candidate for leading post-acute organizations as an interim or permanent basis.

- Confidentially submit your resume for current and future consideration.
- Receive alerts about new career opportunities that match your needs and interests.
- Share career opportunities through social media channels.
- Share job opportunities with family and friends via email.
- Receive relevant communications and updates from Pathway Health.

- Join the Pathway Health team as a consultant

- Unique working experience for all individuals—in all stages of their careers. As an independently owned organization, our employees are located throughout the country.
- Set your own pace, and explore cities and regions throughout the United States.
- Work with leading post-acute organizations.
- Use critical thinking and assessment skills to influence change and quality clinical outcomes within an organization.
- Receive clinical and administrative support, while on assignment 24/7.

A Trusted Relationship

Whether you are contemplating your next career move or actively seeking a new position, we encourage you to review our listings and submit your resume for future consideration. To apply for a specific position or to learn about opportunities, contact recruitment@pathwayhealth.com.

Keep your career on the right path and explore new opportunities today!

